ACTUATOR STRUCTURAL PARTS

As manufacturer STI has responsibility for assembled actuators.

STI cannot take this responsibility when an actuator is not assembled and tested in our factory.

For safety and responsibility reason STI always provide bare actuator quotation and not mechanical structural parts.

When structural parts are required, STI strongly suggest to convince customer to change bare actuator not single structural part.

In particular, when changes is done on spring actuator, where risk of accident is higher.

For this reason STI is going always to quote bare actuator.
